RED CARPET

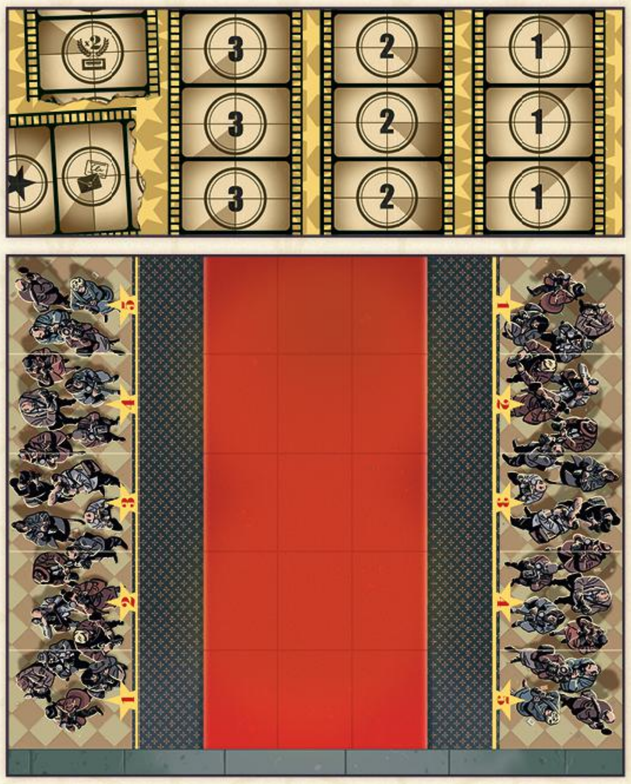

Anna Lucini, Pau Moré & Eloi Pujadas Albert Monteys

Los Angeles, April 1956 – Nearly 2,000 people fill the Hermosa Theater to attend the latest edition of the special awards ceremony hosted by the film industry press. It is the Golden Age of Hollywood, and the country's most beloved and admired stars are expected to be there. Outside, the sidewalk is crowded with dozens of photographers eager to capture the night's best shots. Soon, the stars begin to arrive and parade down the red carpet. "Marilyn, look over here!" "Alfred, smile for the camera!" The press' shouts mix with the clicking of the camera shutters. The flashes light up the fleeting glances and smiles of the celebrities as they move into the award ceremony. Everyone wants the best portraits of these famous people, but no detail can be overlooked. Get your camera ready and take your shot at just the right moment!

*Red Carpe*t is a game for two to four players in which you take on the role of a photographer hunting for the best pictures of the celebrities who drive up in their limousines and make their way up the red carpet to the award ceremony. You will move alongside them with your camera, trying to capture the best angles and framing to get the most points possible, especially if you manage to picture the star next to the logo of their sponsor. You will also influence which star gets the awards by casting votes for your favorites in each category. As the night gets later, the tension will increase until the crucial moment that the awards are delivered, and the winners' portraits will double in value. Whoever has the most points after five rounds is declared the greatest of all photographers!

GAMEPLAY

R*ed Carpet* is played over five rounds. Each round is made up of three phases:

1. The arrival of a limousine
2. Actions
3. Take a picture

1 The arrival of a limousine

When each limousine arrives, the first six spaces of the red carpet will be filled with new arrivals. They include celebrities that everyone is focused on, accompanied by their entourage (for the most part unknowns). To carry out this phase, follow these steps:

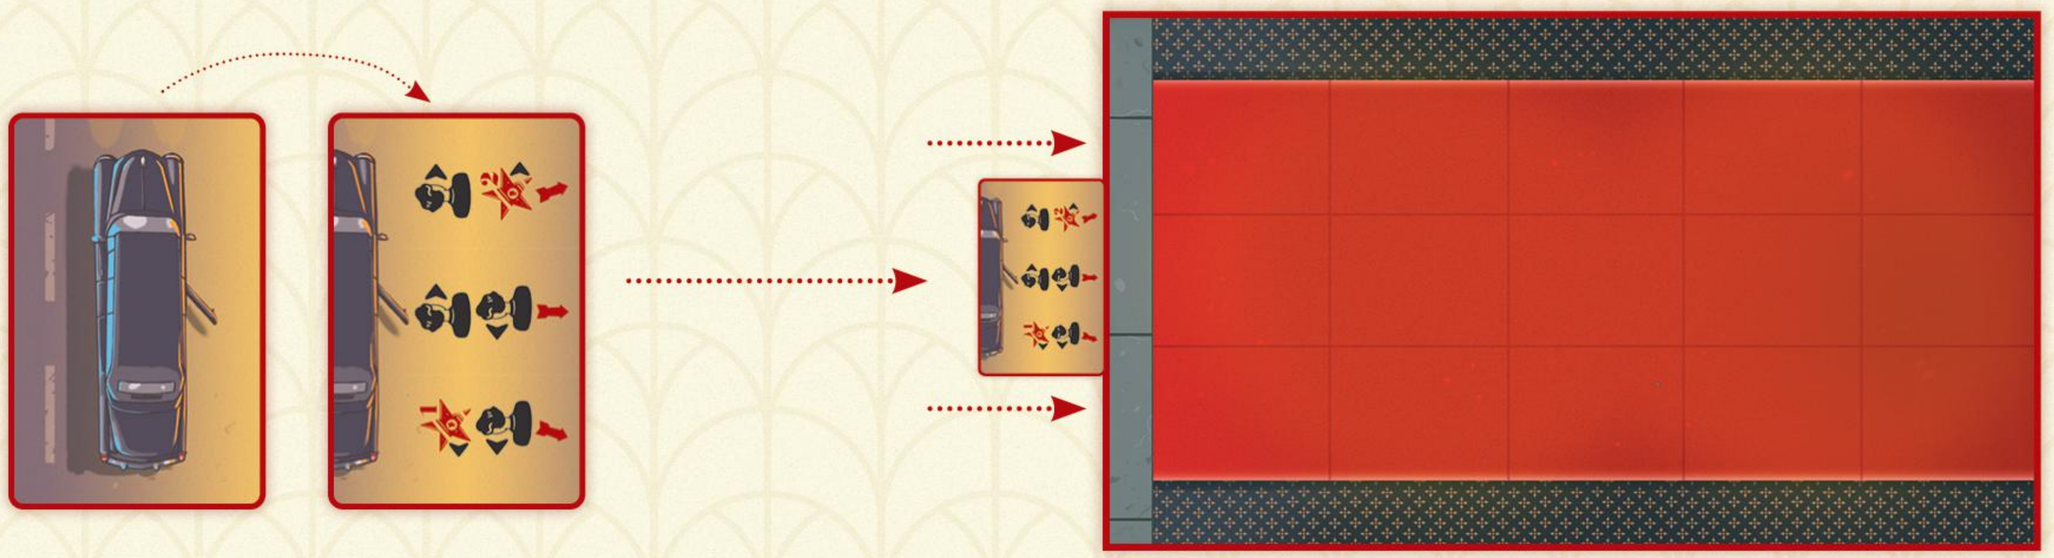

Clear the carpet

If there are already figures in any of these six spaces, move them one or two spaces towards the awards area as needed so they leave those spaces free for the newly arriving figures from the limousine. This may cause other figures to also move towards the awards area to make space—each space can only hold one figure at a time. If any celebrity figure reaches the awards area and leaves the red carpet, it is removed from the game. If an entourage person leaves, they are returned to the limousine area and can be reused later.

Draw and reveal a limousine card placing it face up so it is in contact with the red carpet.

Draw and reveal two celebrity cards

Take the two celebrity figures that are shown on those cards and place them in the middle of the spaces indicated in the first two columns of the limousine card–The first card drawn corresponds to number 1 and the second card drawn to number 2. Turn the figures so that they are looking in the directions indicated by the arrow on the limousine card. Fill the remaining four spaces with four entourage figures and turn them in the directions indicated by the limousine card.

2 Actions

The celebrities get out of their cars and photographers immediately start screaming for their attention so the stars will turn to face them and they can get the best angles for their pictures.

The main part of the round takes place during this phase:

You will proceed as follows:
At the start of this phase, each player receives five photographer cards, which they place in their hand. Starting with the player who has the first player token and going clockwise, each player takes turns playing one card, using any of the three available actions: Vote for a celebrity, Get a spot right behind the cordon, or Move people (as explained below).

You will play like this three times. As soon as all players only have two cards on hand, they will discard one and place the other one face down on the voting cards space of the awards board.

1. VOTE
FOR A CELEBRITY

As representatives of your newspapers, you get to cast votes for your favorite nominees to win this year's awards. Play your card face down on top of the voting cards space on the awards board to add a vote for the celebrity portrayed on that card. At the end of the game, all voting cards will be revealed and the winners of each category will be discovered.

2. GET A SPOT
RIGHT BEHIND THE CORDON

Place your tripod anywhere in either of the two spaces in the press area that match the number on your card. You cannot place your tripod in a space that is already occupied. Your tripod must be fully inside the space you have chosen. If you want to take any pictures today, make sure to pick a space at least during the first round.

3. MOVE PEOPLE

There are three ways to do that, as shown on the card you play:

MOVE A PERSON FORWARD. Choose any figure on the carpet and move them one space towards the awards area. If the destination space already contains a figure, then that figure is pushed along and also moves one space forward (and so on and so forth).
It is possible that this movement will cause a figure to reach the awards area. If it is a celebrity, they are removed from the game. If instead it is an entourage person, they are returned to the limousine area.

CALL FOR SOMEONE'S ATTENTION. You can only carry out this action if your tripod is in a space right behind the cordon. Choose a figure and move them closer to the side of the red carpet that your tripod is on. To do this, you will move the figure to the side without moving them towards the awards area and without changing the direction they are facing. If the destination space already has a figure in it, the two figures switch places.

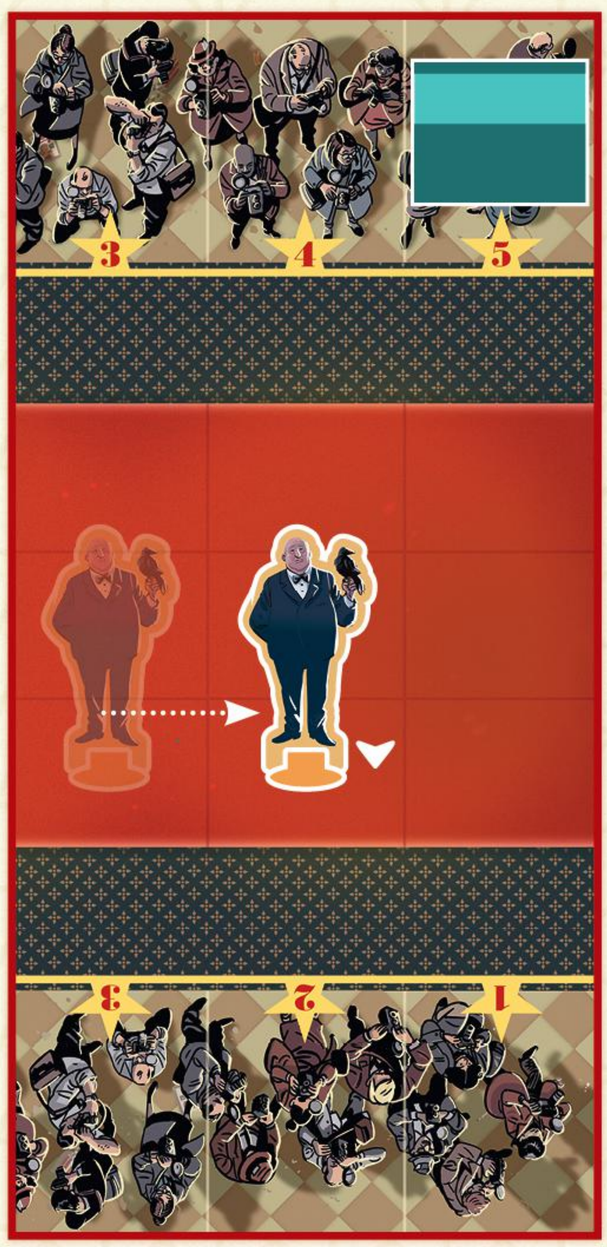

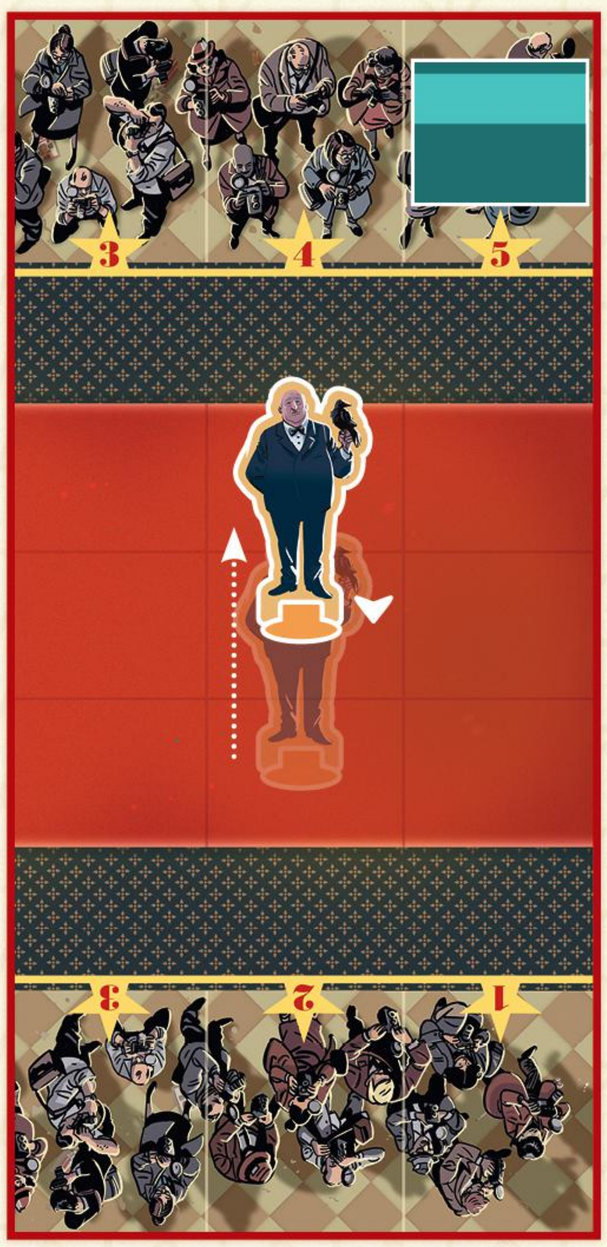

TURN 180°. You can turn any figure completely around (180°) so they face the opposite direction.

When you press the button, the shutter clicks, and the flash pops—a one-of-a-kind instant in time is captured forever.

All of the players now take a photograph of the celebrity of their choice at the same time. You cannot take a picture of a celebrity you have already photographed in a previous round.

In order to take a picture

1) Open the camera app on your mobile phone.

2) Set your zoom to 2x. On most phones, this is done by pressing your finger on the lower part of your screen for a few seconds, just above the options menu where the shutter button is located. This will bring up the zoom options.

Place your mobile phone vertically in your tripod so that it focuses on the red carpet and it is leaning on the front side of the tripod. You may slightly rotate the tripod so you are framing figures that are not perpendicular to you, but your tripod must not be moved out of the place that it is in. You may also slightly change the angle of your mobile phone if the case or any other elements get in the way of the figures' faces.

Take the picture with your phone and show it to the other players. The following criteria are evaluated for your score:

LOOKING AT YOU, KID
You get 3 points if the celebrity is facing you.

CLOSE-UP
You get 2 points if the celebrity appears in a close-up with nothing obstructing the view of their head and shoulders and no other figures in front of them.

FRONT AND CENTER
You get 2 points if the celebrity is in the same row as your tripod.

ENTOURAGE
Subtract 1 point for each entourage figure whose face is clearly or partially showing in the picture.

ADVERTISING
Add 1 point for each sponsor logo matching the one placed on that celebrity. The logo must be clearly visible in your picture.

Once the points have been added up, place your scoring marker on that celebrity's card, in the space matching the number of points your picture is worth.

After all players have taken their pictures and scored them, the round ends. When you reach the end of the fifth round, it triggers the end of the game. Otherwise, pass the first player marker to the next player to the left and move on to the next round.

END OF THE GAME

Once 5 rounds have been played, the final scoring for the game is done. At this point, all the voting cards that have been placed face down in the awards area are revealed 1.

MIKE:
12+5+6+4+16= 43 points

ELSA:
14+10+18+5+6= 53 points

RICHARD:
18+6+2+7+14= 47 points

The votes that each nominee has received are added up and the celebrity in each category who received the most votes is the winner for that category. If there is a tie, all of the tied nominees are considered winners. Place an award token on top of the person or people who have won the award 2.

Each player now gets points for each celebrity depending on the position of their score marker on that celebrity's card:

Celebrities who received awards in the 3 categories 2 and the lifetime achievement award winner 3 give players double points–Multiply the number under their marker by two.

6 x2= 12 points
7 x2= 14 points
9 x2= 18 points

1 x2= 2 points
2 x2= 4 points
9 x2= 18 points

The rest of the nominees simply give players the points indicated by the number under their marker.

5 points
7 points

Whoever has earned the most points wins. If there is a tie, whoever has the most points from winning celebrities wins the game. If there is still a tie after that, then the victory is shared among the tied players.
